Regional anchorages

Cruise ports are located across the Territory's coastline such as the Tiwi Islands and along the coast of Arnhem Land – in Nhulunbuy (Gove), Maningrida, Alyangula (Groote Eylandt), Elcho Island, Mililingimbi and the Cobourg Peninsula. Expedition cruises are an extraordinary way for visitors to reach these remote areas, some inaccessible by land, to see and experience Aboriginal art and culture, and observe the remarkable landscapes and marine life of the Top End.

Anchorage

Available at Tiwi Islands, Garig Gunak Barlu National Park (Cobourg Peninsula), Maningrida, Mililingimbi, Elcho Island, Yirrkala, Gove Port and Groote Eylandt.

Limited port services available. Vessels must be able to provide their own tender services. Tourism activities may be arranged on request in advance and permits may be required.

Exploring Darwin and surrounds

Aboriginal Culture

Aboriginal people in the Northern Territory are custodians of the oldest living culture in the world. Aboriginal culture is a significant drawcard for a large proportion of international and domestic visitors to the Northern Territory. Visitors to Australia seek authentic experiences with Aboriginal people to make spiritual connections on country and through cultural activities.

The diversity of languages and the fact that many people speak language today is unique to the Northern Territory, with over 100 languages and dialects spoken. Aboriginal enterprises within the tourism sector have been providing visitors with engaging and memorable experiences, making Aboriginal cultures synonymous with the Northern Territory as a destination.

The greater Darwin region comprises the lands of the Larrakia, Tiwi, Wulna, Limilngan, Uwnmil, Kungarrakan and Awarai (Warai) people, providing unique connections and opportunities for visitors to engage with Aboriginal people and their stories. This region also acts as a pathway to further explore Aboriginal culture through arts, crafts, performances, food and tours.

Art Galleries and Museums

The Museum and Art Gallery of the Northern Territory is the Territory's flagship museum and art gallery. Its permanent collection holds thousands of artworks and historical artefacts. In the Colin Jack Hinton Maritime Gallery display, you can see an impressive collection of old traditional boats and canoes that perfectly reflect Darwin's seafaring past.

For military heritage, the Top End is unparalleled being Australia's only location of a major battle during World War II. Darwin felt the full force of the war with air raids by aircraft of the Imperial Japanese Navy in 1942, wreaking destruction on the city. The Darwin Military Museum tells the story, not only of the Northern Territory's role in World War II, but of Australia's involvement in armed conflict over the years.

A short walk from the Mall is Aboriginal Bush Traders, a not-for-profit gallery selling genuine, ethically sourced and sustainable products made by people in remote Aboriginal communities. While you're there, be sure to visit the café and sample the authentic bush tucker menu.

Waterfront Precinct

Experience the best of the Territory's tropical lifestyle with lush parklands and one of Darwin's most popular attractions, the Wave Lagoon.

Walking distance from the cruise ship terminal, the Waterfront's man-made beach is the best place in the Top End to swim in saltwater and relax in the tropical surrounds.

Refuel after a morning swim at one of the many restaurants, linger over a luxurious lunch, or stop for a drink before returning to port.

Litchfield National Park

Just 90 minutes from Darwin, Litchfield National Park is a true wonder of the Top End, with idyllic waterfalls, pristine swimming spots, beautiful walking trails and hidden natural wonders. Plunge into crystal clear waterholes including Buley Rockhole, Florence and Wangi Falls or take a short walk to the Tolmer Falls viewing platform.

One of Litchfield National Park's most impressive sights is the hundreds of termite mounds standing up to four metres high.

Kakadu National Park

Only three hours' drive or a short scenic flight from Darwin, in Kakadu National Park you'll find ancient landscapes with thundering waterfalls, lush rainforests, wandering wetlands, exotic wildlife and ancient rock art.

See breathtaking horizons from the top of a Kakadu escarpment. Cruise on the stunning Yellow Water Billabong to spot crocodiles and wildlife in their natural habitat, including millions of migratory birds who in part call the park's wetlands home.

With more than 5,000 Aboriginal rock art sites in the park, the Bininj/Mungguy people have called Kakadu home for some 65,000 years. Here they'll teach you about their ancient culture and the region's dramatic seasons.

Wildlife

The Territory Wildlife Park is a 45 minute drive south of Darwin adjacent to the Berry Springs Nature Park and offers visitors authentic and up-close encounters with native wildlife from tropical northern Australia. Set amongst three distinct habitats, visitors get to experience wildlife in a stunning bushland setting.

Located in the heart of Darwin city, Crococaurus Cove is home to the world's largest display of Australian reptiles and allows visitors a unique and close and personal view of the iconic saltwater crocodile.

Enjoy a full NT outback experience at Crocodylus Park and Zoo, located only 15 minutes from Darwin CBD by bus or taxi. The croc feeding tours run daily and the park is home to a wide range of animals, including lions, meerkats, spider monkeys and more.

For an extraordinary sight, join a croc-jumping cruise on the Adelaide River. Watch in awe as enormous crocodiles weave their way out of the water to snatch at bait.

Exploring the Northern Territory's Coastline

Tiwi Islands

The Tiwi Islands comprise of two main islands – Bathurst and Melville, which are 80km north of Darwin.

The people on Tiwi Islands are famous for their traditional lifestyle, stunning artworks, vibrant fabrics and textiles, plus an exuberant passion for football. On a day tour from Darwin or as a separate port of call passengers will soon discover why the Tiwi Islands are nicknamed the 'Island of Smiles'.

Exploring Arnhem Land

Known for its unique Aboriginal art centres, the Arnhem Land coastline also boasts some of the most spectacular and unspoilt coastline in Australia.

Learn about the rich trading history with the Makassar people of Indonesia and how their presence has had an ongoing impact on the communities living in the region.

Explore the eerie ruins of Victoria Settlement, one of two failed British settlements on the Cobourg Peninsula in the Garig Gunak Barlu National Park.

Maningrida Arts and Culture represents more than 700 artists who work with bark paintings, timber sculptures, fibre art, didgeridoos, regalia, prints and bronze sculptures. Also located in Maningrida is the Babbarra Womens Centre a world class textile producing art centre and women's space supporting the economic independence of Indigenous women in the remote community.

The Buku-Larrnggay Mulka Centre, located in Yirrkala near Nhulunbuy, houses a collection of Yolngu, Aboriginal, bark paintings, carvings and artefacts. The museum includes the original church panels that are of great historical and cultural significance. There is also an extensive history of Yolngu service in World War II, and a collection of stories and petitions relating to the Yirrikala area.

Please note access to these areas requires a permit. See back page for details.

Exploring the Northern Territory overland

The Ghan

Known as one of the world's greatest rail journeys, The Ghan travels through the middle of Australia, visiting some of the NT's best destinations along the way.

Katherine and Nitmiluk National Park

Where the outback meets the tropics, Katherine is a 3 hour drive from Darwin. Get a glimpse of life in the Australian outback at Tom Curtain's Katherine Outback Experience or get a hands-on perspective of Aboriginal culture with the Top Didj Aboriginal Cultural Experience; both minutes from the centre of town.

Nitmiluk National Park, 30km north-east of Katherine, includes 13 impressive gorges carved from the ancient sandstone country which stretch as far as the eye can see. Explore the world-famous park and gorge country on foot, by canoe, boat tour or helicopter.

Alice Springs

Nestled between the East and West MacDonnell Ranges, 'Alice' is famous for its beautiful desert landscapes, colourful outback characters, opportunities for adventure and a strong Aboriginal culture.

Watch the sunrise with Outback Ballooning, meet Aboriginal artists in one of the town's excellent art galleries or hike through the nearby ranges.

Drop in to the Royal Flying Doctor Service, which supports an area of more than 7 million square kilometres. Learn about Alice Springs' plants, animals and landscapes at the Alice Springs Desert Park or the Reptile Centre. Head just out of town to cuddle a baby kangaroo at the Kangaroo Sanctuary.

Uluru-Kata Tjuta National Park

One of the greatest natural wonders of the world, Uluru is not only a spectacular natural formation, it is also a deeply spiritual place. For the local Aboriginal people, the Anangu, World Heritage-listed Uluru-Kata Tjuta National Park holds a special cultural significance where earth and memories exist as one. Join a dot-painting or wood-carving workshop with local artists at Maruku Arts or visit Gallery of Central Australia.

Wintjiri Wiru meaning 'beautiful view out to the horizon', is being launched by Voyages Indigenous Tourism Australia in May 2023. Wintjiri Wiru will illuminate the desert sky as traditional music, drones, projections and lasers weave in a kaleidoscope of colour as it tells a chapter of the Mala creation story from Docker River to Uluru.

Visit Bruce Munro's Field of Light Uluru to witness 50,000 slender stems crowned with radiant frosted-glass spheres gently bloom with rhythms of coloured light.

Watarrka National Park

Watarrka National Park is only three hours' drive from Uluru, and is home to the mighty Kings Canyon. Explore the iconic Kings Canyon Rim walk or visit Discovery Parks - Kings Canyon and wander amongst Bruce Munro's newest illuminating experience, Light-Towers.
